Lions Cancel Annual Jamboree

Because of the fact they have been unable to secure a feature attraction to headline their annual sports day and jamboree, the Didsbury Lions Club have been forced to cancel the event this year. First the attempt was made to have a regular league game between Carstairs and Calgary Mercury played here on the date previously planned but circumstances would not permit this arrangement. Further efforts to get a sports event worth seeing through when it was learned that two teams of the Calgary junior football league could not make the trip at the time.

However, it is planned to hold a mammoth bingo later in the year and the regular Saturday night bingo games which went over so well last year will be started again within the next week or so.

Polio Season Starts In Calgary

CALGARY — If the weekly disease report issued Monday by the city health department is any indication, Calgary's polio epidemic for 1954 may have started.

Four cases were registered last week. No other cases had been recorded during the previous three weeks.

Department officials emphasized, however, that each of the cases was of a mild, non-paralytic nature. Two of the children have already been released from hospital.

Other communicable disease outbreaks reported were led by measles with six cases, tuberculosis and whooping cough with four each, Scarlet fever cases, three, made up the remainder.

No cases of polio have as yet been reported in this district, measles being the only communicable disease prevalent at the present time.

Hail Demolishes Crop at Westcott

One of the worst hailstorms in many years hit this district with a vengeance on Tuesday of last week. Many farmers haven't a thing left, with even the hay being pounded into ground. Damage to buildings and other property was extensive, as fowl were killed and screened all over the farms. The storm hit over a wide area and to many farmers it is a severe blow as hail has been hitting the district year after year. Quite a number who have not had a crop for years will again be in the same position.

Robert Wilsheisen had a run-away with a team of horses on the hay rake on Saturday and those that were in the field with him at the time are still wondering how the hay came out of it as well as he did. Robert was badly shaken and bruised following the incident.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Artmann and family of Calgary were Sunday dinner guests at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Harry Wilsheisen and Mr. Wilsheisen. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Goelien and Leslie were also dinner guests, the occasion being Mr. Wilsheisen's birthday.

Garry Weidner is in Calgary holidaying with his grandparents.

Gruvelling is going on and so there has been a lot of activity in and around Mr. Wahl's farm, from where the gravel is being hauled.

Hail Again Hits Alberta Crops

Hail renewed its attacks on Alberta crops Monday, hitting the area directly south and southwest of Calgary.

Worst damage was expected to result in the area between Okotoks, Black Diamond, Millerville and Midnapore. Two storms actually hit the Okotoks district — one during the late afternoon and another during the early evening. The first storm lasted only 10 minutes but the second was longer.

The hail was reported as heavy during both storms but there was no immediate estimate of damage available.

Farther south, High River received heavy rain but there was only a smattering of hail.

The two hail storms also struck with fair severity at Black Diamond, northwest of Millerville and at Brass Creek, 40 miles south of Calgary.

The storms were reported to be moving in an easterly direction.

Open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mullen on Tuesday, July 27th, on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Many friends and neighbors called to congratulate them and extend best wishes, and the honored couple were the recipients of many lovely gifts, among which was a platform rocking chair and two bouquets of yellow roses, presented by their family.

During the evening, on behalf of their friends and neighbors, Mr. Dorris Mullen presented Mr. and Mrs. Mullen with a purse of money, as a token of the respect and friendship of the district, and extended to them the best wishes of the community.

For the occasion Mrs. Mullen chose a dress of pale blue sheer figured nylon and wore with it a corsage of sweetheart roses, a gift from her grandchildren.

The tea table, laid with a lace cloth, was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by two vases of yellow roses.

Mrs. Frank Ausmus, Mr. L. Clapham and Mrs. Willis Yauch poured tea. Mrs. Eileen Wilkins had charge of the guest book, and assisting were Mrs. Mary Payne, Mrs. Troy Morgan, Mrs. Charles Wrightson and Miss Evelyn Wilkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen came to Landon, Alberta, from Indiana in 1908, moving to their present home at Didsbury in 1921.

They have four children, Kenneth and George of Didsbury, Lee of Edmonton and Mrs. Helen Ausmus of Red Deer; nine grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

Fish and Game Picnic at Raven Fish Hatchery Great Success

Ideal weather conditions made possible one of the most successful picnics yet put on by Olds, Innisfail, Didsbury, Carstairs and Dickson Fish and Game Associations on Sunday, July 25.

Five hundred pounds of beef were barbecued. Huto Rosenberg, secretary of the Olds Association and Dick Zulu went out Saturday to attend to the barbecuing. This was very popular with the crowd. Booths did a roaring business with hot dogs, coffee, soft drinks and ice cream. Fifty gallons of ice cream was not enough to meet the demand and all the beef was eaten.

Although there were many contests to test skills and amuse the crowd the main pleasure was derived from viewing the very beautiful surroundings and visiting friends from near and far. Tall, stately spruce save shade and beauty. Lovely water falls pour water down into the fish ponds. Everyone took time to observe the fish in the ponds.

The 22 rifle range was a busy place and a keenly contested soft ball game attracted a large percentage of the vast crowd. It was estimated that between 2500 and 3000 people attended.

Complete report on winners of various events follow and of the distinguished guests, and those conducting the various activities:

Warns Against Low Prices

The recent cut in the export price of Canadian and United States wheat has apparently been greeted with considerable enthusiasm in the United Kingdom. Many attribute the decline to the British wisdom in refusing to be a party to the International Wheat Agreement and some people even go so far as to anticipate a world price war with the United States throwing huge stocks on the market.

A prominent British agricultural journalist, Laurence Easterbrook, warned against the possible consequence of such action. So often the price of wheat sets the tone for world food prices, he said. It was the collapse of the North American wheat price in 1929-30 that heralded the worst industrial depression the U.K. can remember, for it impoverished the primary producers to such an extent that they could no longer buy British manufactured goods.

He contended that Britain is shuffling out of its international responsibility of helping to maintain a fair price for wheat in a time of temporary surplus and concluded: "The irony of it is that if catastrophe does happen and the fall in the wheat price is once more the herald of a world-wide depression, none in the U.K. will suffer more than the permanent victims of the illusion of cheap food, the industrial wage earners."

Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

This week I have been hard pressed to decide on a theme, for two events seemed to clamor for attention or comment. The first concerned the second meeting of the World Council of Churches, which meets this month in Evanston, Illinois. The second was to make some comments on the why's and wherefore's of hail storms. The council's meeting is of major importance in many churches' life, but rather remote from any immediate concern. The storms that have lashed Alberta, and this district, have had results that are much more immediate, direct and personal. But of necessity one must make comment on one rather than the other, in such a column as this, where limitations of space forbid a lengthy discussion.

A. M. Hunter, writing on the Lord's Prayer, has come to my rescue through his comments on the sequence of the petitions in the Prayer. "First, world issues, then human needs, but both for Jesus are in the hands of the great Father who at once shapes the course of history and attends to the individual needs of his children." If one writes on the one, it is not to overlook the importance of the other, but to remember that both are related basically and fundamentally, but "first, world issues, so the priority goes to the World Council."

If there is unity in Christ, why is there division amongst the churches? The basis of the World Council is extremely short and simple. "The World Council of Churches is a fellowship of churches which accept our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour." It represents an attempt to ascertain what happens when groups of people who wish for unity in the church yet find themselves divided and separated in many ways. Sincere and consecrated Christian people are poles apart in their views of the World Council. Some support it enthusiastically and view it as a very helpful and truly Christian venture of faith. Others view it as an indication that the church is willing to lose its soul in order to win the world, and that the true work of salvation and the proclamation of the true Evangel can best be done without any entanglement in the Council.

The view through this window is that the World Council is a true fruit of the Spirit, not yet fully ripened of course, but one that can be used of God to help satisfy a truly Christian hunger for unity in Christ. The full scope proclaims both individual salvation and corporate fellowship. The world need to be not only a neighborhood but also to be a Christian brotherhood.

Notes From D.A.

Cowless Pastures: One of these days dairy cows may disappear from Canadian pastures. Experiments now underway in New Jersey indicate that it is much more profitable to bring pasture to the cows than to let them out on pasture.

During the tests, 50 head of Holstein cows were kept in their barn all summer. Each day at 7 a.m. and 2 p.m. a wagon load of green feed was harvested and fed to the cattle. Cows were given the opportunity to eat all the green feed they could consume.

The experiment showed that 50 cows each ate an average of 92 lbs. of green feed daily. The persistency of their production was greater than cows out on pasture. The latter dropped off in production sharply during the summer when pastures were short. It was estimated that at least 920 lbs. of feed (green basis) were saved daily by bringing it to the cows instead of letting them trample the pasture.

Experimenters were promoted to carry out these tests by two factors. The first was the excessive waste which reached as high as 25 per cent of the total feed available. This wastage represents an economic loss to dairymen that is becoming increasingly critical as the value of land increases. By cutting the waste and taking it to the cows it is possible to harvest all the forage grown without any grazing losses.

Perhaps the most important advantage of this type of feeding is the elimination of summer slumps in milk production during dry spells when grass becomes short. Many cows never recover from this slump during the same lactation. Feeding and supplying water on pasture are no longer required with "zero" pasture.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How the individual can find true joy, health and courage through gaining a spiritual understanding of God will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Leason-Sermon entitled "Spirit is the Golden Text from Galatians (5: 22, 23): 'The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law.'"

The blessings bestowed on man by God—divine Spirit, will also be brought out in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: "78: 28-30: 'Spirit blesses man, but man cannot tell whence it cometh'. By it the sick are healed, the sorrowing are comforted, and the sinning are reformed.'"

From the Bible, the following passage will be among those read: John 4: 24: "God is a Spirit and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

BOARD
NOTES

W. K. Snyder
Field Supervisor

I am being asked the same question by many people almost daily. Does the use of 2-4-D sprayed on hay or grass render it unfit for the consumption of farm animals? The answer is an emphatic NO. 2-4-D is not poisonous to livestock. Pastures can be sprayed without removing the livestock. Hay that you may wish to cut and put up for feed on the roadsides after the municipal sprayer has been by and sprayed the weeds is just as good for feed after the 2-4-D treatment as it was before. Yellow Headed Spruce Sawfly — Mr. McPhail made mention in his column last week about the presence of this destructive insect pest. Perhaps you did not notice his article. I will make mention of this pest. Examining your spruce trees immediately and look for green worms about one-half inch in length. These worms have a yellowish head. The caterpillars I have seen were definitely green in color but they may also be reddish brown with stripes throughout the length of the body. They can defoliate and defoliate a spruce needle or shelterbelt and can have a serious effect on the trees. Poisons are available to kill these pests but you should act without delay since they move in like an army and eat off the spruce needles. Contact your district agriculturist or the municipal office for advice on how to use these insect poisons.

The Joke Box

A doctor was called to the home of a family who owed him a good sized bill running for several years. This time it was the maid he was called in to see. He found her in bed, but careful examination failed to reveal any signs of illness. Asking her what the big idea was, she told him to close the door.

"Well, Doc, I've been working here for six months and they have never paid me a cent. I've decided I'm not getting out of bed until they've paid me every cent they owe me."

Said the Doc: "Sounds like a good idea to me. Move over!"

The bigger a man's heel gets, the easier it is to fill his shoes.

Turning a corner a London scrub woman suddenly came face to face with her most detested acquaintance. "My dear!" she cried enthusiastically, "wot a turn you give me—I thought 'ye was dead!"

"Now who told you that?" the other demanded.

"Nobody," the first replied, "but I've 'eard several people speakin' well o' yer lately!"

One-two-three
— HUP! —

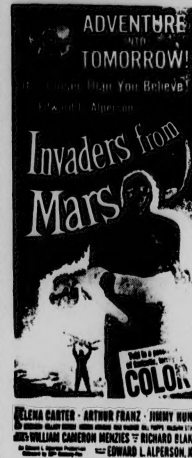

EVER give a "leg up" to a knight in full armour? In a recent film about Joan of Arc the movie makers got over this weighty problem by dressing the actress who played the title part in a suit of armour made of aluminum. Result: shooting, including scenes showing Joan mounting her horse, proceeded on schedule.

Canadian manufacturers use a lot of weight-saving aluminum not only because it makes things lighter to handle and cheaper to ship but because it goes up into more products per pound. Helps them market their products for less. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (ALCAN).

TODAY, SUCCESSFUL FARMERS
RELY UPON MACHINE HELP

Profitable, efficient, low cost farming depends largely upon the effective use of machinery to get more work done in less time and at the lowest possible cost per unit of production.

This trend to mechanization of more and more farm operations and to the utilization of the greater advantages in work output of the latest machines has been speeded up by the scarcity and high cost of dependable, experienced farm labour.

When checking your work program be sure to look into the labour-saving features of the latest Massey-Harris and Ferguson machines. Designed and built to help you do more work quicker and at less cost, Massey-Harris and Ferguson machines fit ideally into present-day farming operations.
